Dear shooters, Dear guests

On the occasion of the 30th anniversary of the International Shooting Competition in Ruse.

On the momentous occasion of the 30th anniversary of the 10m air rifle shooting competition, my reflections transport me back to the 1980s, when, at the I. Pohorski Battalion Ruse Shooting Club, we envisioned ambitious development goals, including the organization of an international air rifle shooting competition. Our aspirations were rooted in the commemoration of the local holiday of Ruše, honoring the heroic battle of the 1st Pohorje Battalion on January 8, 1943.

In its nascent stages, our endeavors were humble in terms of experience and resources. Yet, fueled by dedication, camaraderie, and a shared goal of providing our Club's best shooters with a platform for domestic competition, we were inspired to continually enhance the organization and execution of the event. In 2022, we elevated the competition to an ISSF Grand Prix, signifying its status as one of the premier events within the ISSF World Shooting Federation program.

Over the past three decades, shooters from 53 countries have graced Ruse with their presence. The organizers have consistently strived to exemplify hospitality, ensuring that our social gatherings during the competition were something truly special. Beyond the competitive achievements, fostering friendships and building strong relations remained a pivotal objective. The competition also served as an opportunity to showcase Ruše, the wider Maribor region, and Slovenia to all participants. To introduce our region, Slovenia, and the beauty of shooting sports to a broader audience, we dedicated considerable effort to TV production, progressively enhancing it each year. For this year's competition, I am pleased to announce that we will provide live or recorded TV coverage of all ten final events on Sport TV, along with a free IP TV signal for all World Shooting Federation members.

On this year's anniversary, I extend heartfelt gratitude to everyone who has contributed to the success of our international competition in Ruse, including the Shooting Federation of Slovenia, the Municipality of Ruše, the Slovenian Army, local schools, our longstanding main sponsor Zavarovalnica Sava, and all other donors and sponsors. Special thanks are reserved for the members of the Shooting Club I. Pohorski Battalion and the volunteers, without whom the organization of the competition would have been impossible. As we conclude this thirty-year milestone, our fervent hope is for the Grand Prix competition to endure within the World Shooting Federation program, fostering the continued growth of shooting sports in Slovenia and globally. To all participants, I wish you outstanding results and a delightful stay among us. Simultaneously, as we embark on the Olympic New Year, I extend my warmest wishes for personal happiness, satisfaction, and success at the upcoming major shooting competition in Paris.

Ljubo Gerič,
President of the organizing committee

Dear Friends,

The ISSF Grand Prix shooting competition, which reached a global format, has put our small town Ruše on the map of internationally recognized cities.

These achievements are due to the Shooting Association, First Battalion of Pohorje, Ruše, which cultivates a rich sporting tradition in the field of shooting competitions. History of the Shooting Association is closely connected with the events of our local places. In memory of January 8 (eight), 1943 (nineteen forty three), when 69 (sixty nine) fighters of the First Battalion of Ruše lost their lives in battle at Osankarica, the First Battalion of Pohorje shooting family was founded in February 1950 (nineteen fifty) in Ruše, which is one of the oldest shooting families in Slovenia. Every year since 1950 (nineteen fifty), the association organises a shooting competition at Osankarica on local holiday of Ruše to commemorate the last fight of Pohorje Battalion. In time, it grew into international airgun shooting competition that we know today as shooting competition ISSF Grand Prix.

I am grateful to the representatives of the Shooting Association of Slovenia and the organizing committee of the competition for putting this competition on the world map with the standards of the World Shooting Association and at the same time preserving the tradition of the local community.

This time, as many as 32 (thirty two) representatives of the countries of the world will compete in the competition. Among the shooters will also be competitors who have won quota for participation in the upcoming Paris 2024 (twenty twenty four) Olympic Games. As mayor of the Municipality of Ruše, I am honored that among the visible competitors will also be competitors of our Shooting Association, First Battalion of Pohorje, Ruše, who achieve exceptional results in numerous national and international competitions.

Sincere thanks and praise go to all those who contribute to achievements and progress in the field of shooting competitions with their dedication and perseverance. The nobility of your work is shown in the preservation of tradition and the encouragement of young people.

All the best. Bullseye

Urška Repolusk
Mayor

Dear shooters, Dear guests

It is a tremendous honor for me to extend a warm welcome as the President of the Honorary Committee of the ISSF GP Ruše 10m International Shooting Competition. I am delighted to welcome you to Slovenia for this special event, marking the 30th edition of the Grand Prix in Ruše.

Slovenia boasts a rich tradition in shooting, and our athletes consistently make us proud with their remarkable achievements. The significance of shooting is underscored on Slovenian Sports Day, celebrated annually on September 23. This date holds particular importance as it commemorates the day when shooter Rajmond Debevec and rowers Luka Špik and Iztok Čop secured Slovenia's first Olympic gold medals as an independent state in Sydney.

At the Ministry of the Economy, Tourism, and Sport, we take sincere pride in the success of our athletes. Our commitment lies in enhancing working conditions in the sports sector and making deliberate and systematic investments in sports. The recent transfer of the sports portfolio to the Ministry of the Economy, Tourism, and Sport in 2023 has brought about new dimensions, perspectives, and opportunities for sports, particularly in connection to the economy and tourism. In 2023 alone, we have increased funding for sports, emphasizing the critical role of adequate sports infrastructure in the country's sporting development.

Recognizing the importance of sports facilities, we annually issue a public call for co-funding the renovation and establishment of sports facilities and outdoor areas. In this process, we consider the feedback and opinions of national sports federations and local communities, ensuring a holistic approach.

I would like to extend my commendations to the Shooting Union of Slovenia and the Organizing Committee ISSF GP Ruše for their efforts in orchestrating this Grand Prix. To all participating athletes, I extend my best wishes for a fantastic competition. I am confident that all international participants will depart Slovenia with cherished memories.

DOSEZITE
OLAJŠAVO

Z individualnim dodatnim pokojninskim zavarovanjem varčujete za dodatno pokojninsko rento – za višjo pokojnino. Za varčevanje ste nagrajeni z davčno olajšavo. Vplačane premije vam znižujejo osnovo za odmero dohodnine, kar vam zagotovi nižje plačilo dohodnine ali višje vračilo le-te. Varčujete več in plačate manj.

Izračunajte si svojo davčno olajšavo. Poskenirajte spodnjo QR kodo ali obiščite sava-pokojninska.si.
